

The 'useful' summer trends

What are the summer 2019 trends and can you wear them? Yes, says Personal Stylist, Kirstie Smillie.

It's exciting to know what's going on with designers and while some trends take a while to filter through certain styles are very wearable and are being sold on the high street. These styles are perfect for everyday inspiration and the images are a boost for style confidence, so I've selected a few that offer cheerful colour pops and creative solutions to nourish your wardrobe now.

Pale Denim

Catwalk: Alberta Ferretti. High Street: Pale denim jacket, £28 Red Herring at Debenhams.

Print on Print

Easy style updates

Add a scarf of substance!

Make a statement of colour, print or shape or all three! This is the perfect way of introducing a colour you want to experiment with...just be bold.

How wide will you go?

Be brave with wider legs to add a new proportion to your skinny jean look. Yes, it takes more time to think about what top and shoes to wear but it's worth it!

The midi's moment.

There's a slinky one, a pleated one and even a flared one - the choice is out there for every shape. They need waist-length tops or below hip works well too.
